

Who is Eligible for the Affordable Care Act Marketplace Insurance?

Many people are eligible for ACA marketplace insurance.

This includes:

- U.S. citizens
- Refugees
- Asylees
- Victims of domestic violence and human trafficking (U and T visa)
- People with work visas, such as H-2A
- Cuban and Haitian entrants
- People with temporary protected status (TPS)
- Permanent residents/people with green cards

Undocumented immigrants and individuals with DACA (Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals) status are not eligible.

Are there any other requirements?

You must be living or working in the area where you apply for insurance.

→ If you move to another region or state, you may want to change your health insurance. Ask about your options!

If your employer offers health insurance, you can buy health insurance in the ACA marketplace, but you probably won't qualify for financial help.

Who else will my health insurance cover?

You can buy health insurance for yourself, or you can include other members of your family.

Ask about the plan that may be best for you and your family.

What if my family has mixed status?

Unfortunately, ACA marketplace insurance won't cover family members who are undocumented or have DACA.

However, you only have to provide documentation for the people who will be covered by the health insurance. For example:

- If you apply for insurance for your children only, you do not have to provide information about yourself.
- If you apply for just yourself, you do not have to provide information about your family members.

IMPORTANT: You ONLY have to provide a Social Security number for those who you want to receive health insurance coverage. It is not necessary to answer that question about others, even if you're asked!

IMPORTANT

Having ACA marketplace insurance or Medicaid and receiving financial support does not affect your ability to become a Lawful Permanent Resident or U.S. citizen under public charge.
